Since it was first published in 1929, Virginia Woolf's “A Room of One's Own” has been a great source of inspiration for many scholars, writers, poets and artists. This assignment is to encourage you to blend your critical and creative skills and write a short story, poem, diary entry, letter, conversation, manifesto or a short Woolfian essay with elements of fiction in it in response to one of the ideas explored in “A Room of One's Own”. You can use different media and present your work in the form of a short video of 2-4 minutes too.

This assignment has two dimensions; to explicate your creative work and share what specific aspect/idea in Woolf's essay inspired you to create, you will also write a 200-250 word reflection paragraph.

Please upload your assignment in a single word file which will include both the creative work and the reflection paragraph; the docx file should be named as:

“A Room of My Own- name-surname”

The assignment's due date is 19 May 2021, 20:00.

I hope you will enjoy being creative and critical in the footsteps of Virginia Woolf. 😊
