

ELIT 554 POPULAR LITERATURE (404)

In this course, the student is to identify the characteristics of the various genres of popular literature such as science fiction, fantasy, gothic, detective, romance and horror fiction, and to describe the generic characteristics of popular literature by comparing these works with each other as well as with the canonical texts.